HOSPITAL WORK STARTS

Mr. Stringer

IN JUNE — $60,000 extensions

Work on $60,000 extensions to Altona Hospital will commence on June 1 next year, Mr. Robert Stringer, president of the hospital's board of management, announced yesterday.

Rescue attempt fails

Girl drowns at W'stown

Bruce Wilkinson, 19, of Seddon, made a desperate attempt to save the life of a seven-year-old girl who drowned at Williamstown beach on Sunday.

Mr. Wilkinson was about to leave the beach at 3 p.m. when he saw three men carrying the limp figure of Delia Poth out of the shallows.

He thrust his watch and wallet at his girl friend, ran across the crowded beach and took Delia from her rescuers.

He put the child on a sand bar, ripped off his shirt and singlet, placed them under her neck, sent for an ambulance and began applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

He tried unsuccessfully to revive her until two life savers and an RAAF officer arrived.

He waited for the ambulance and then left.

Delia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugen Poth, Cyclamen Avenue, North Altona, went to the beach at about 1 p.m. She was with her sister Carola, 9, and a neighboring family.

She was playing close to the shore when she stumbled into the water.

Delia was a pupil at Brooklyn Primary School.

Mr. and Mrs. Poth also have a son Roland, 6.

The funeral left the Martin, Luther Church, The Broadway, North Altona, this morning.

Mr. Stringer said arrangements for the alterations had been completed and the Government grant of $30,000 would be available late in July.

He said the hospital's architects had been notified to commence detailed drawings and it was expected that tenders for the work would be called in April.

Of the $60,000 for the alteration, $53,000 will go towards building costs, which leaves a further $7000 still to be raised.

The Altona combined service clubs appeal committee is actively working towards this goal — so that modern equipment and furnishings can be purchased.

Walkathon

The committee's next fund-raising activity is a walkathon on Sunday, December 6, at 2 p.m., over a five-mile route commencing at the park in Sargood Street, opposite the hospital.

The proposed route is along the Esplanade to Maidstone Street, Civic Parade, The Esplanade, and back to the hospital.

About 70 walkers will take part. Any person or firm is welcome to sponsor a walker or make a direct donation as have the Altona Chamber of Commerce ($100), and the Altona elderly citizens' welfare committee ($10).

Anyone wishing to enter the walkathon should call at the hospital or phone (398 2910) between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday to Friday.

STREET STALL

Altona Baptist Ladies' Guild will hold a street stall on Saturday, November 28, in the Manse Garden, at the corner of Blyth and Sargood streets. On sale will be Christmas novelties, home-made cakes and other goods.

He'll attend world scout jamboree

Stephen Chapman, 15, relaxing at his Blackshaws Road home in North Altona, is one of five scouts from the Gellibrand district who have been selected to attend the 13th world scout jamboree in Japan next August.

Also selected are Michael Jeans, who with Stephen is a member of the 3rd Altona troop; J. Beckwith and M. Bagot, (1st Werribee); and R. Barrow (4th Altona).

The jamboree, to be held at Mt. Fuji, from August 2 to 10, 91 miles west of Tokyo, will cost each boy $800, a third of which has to be raised by the boys themselves.

And it is with this thought in mind that Stephen has started part-time work at a local grocery.

A fourth form student at Altona North Technical School, Stephen is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Chapman, of Blackshaws Road, North Altona.

He started with the 3rd Altona troop at the age of eight as a cub and is now a senior scout.

Three other boys from the 3rd Altona troop have been selected to attend an Australian jamboree to be held in Sydney in December.

They are Gary Giles, Stephen Hammond and Ken Harris.

OK to factory extensions

Altona Council gave approval for factory extensions totalling nearly $7 million at its meeting last night (Tuesday).

Council's general purpose committee last Tuesday heard deputations from both Dow Chemicals (Australia) Ltd., and James Hardie and Co. Pty. Ltd.

Mt. St. Joseph's scores a hit

Imaginative, outstanding, different from the normal run of school performances — this was Mt. St. Joseph's recent presentation of 'Endeavor 70.'

The cast of over 380 girls from the Altona West school played to capacity audiences at both performances on Thursday and Friday nights.

Members of the audiences commended the girls' effort after each performance. Letters were received praising the "appropriate musical which provoked thought and appreciation."

UNLICENSED DRIVER IS GAOLED

A 23-year-old North Altona probationary driver was gaoled for 21 days, fined $25 and disqualified from holding a driver's licence for four months when he faced Mr. J. R. Aitken SM on two unlicensed driving charges at Footscray Court last Thursday.

Carmel Charles Farrugia, of 27 Gadsen Street, North Altona pleaded guilty to both charges and guilty to a charge of having exceeded 35 miles per hour.

Constable Terrence Spencer (Kingsville) said he went to see Farrugia at his home on Friday, August 15 to pick up Farrugia's licence which had been cancelled for three months at Williamstown Court on August 7.

Constable Spencer said Farrugia admitted driving without a licence in an interview on August 16.

He said the second unlicensed driving incident occurred on November 3 when he stopped a car driven by Farrugia in Millers Road, North Altona.

No speedo

Constable Kevin McInerney (Kingsville) said he observed Farrugia doing a steady 50 miles an hour, travelling in a westerly direction in McArthur's Road, North Altona, between Millers Road and Ginnifer Avenue.

He said Farrugia explained he had no speedometer.

Mr. Aitken sentenced Farrugia to seven days gaol on the first unlicensed driving charge, to 14 days gaol on the second, fined him $25 for exceeding 35 mph, and disqualified him from holding a driver's licence for four months on each charge.

SUSAN'S LOVE OF NATURE WINS AN ESSAY PRIZE

Suzanne Antonoff and the prize she won for an essay on conservation.

Susan Antonoff, 13, won an essay competition on Friday, which was sponsored by the National Park Association.

Susan is a second form student at Altona High School and her teacher, Mrs. H. Tregear said Susan was one of her best English students.

She was presented with the book 'Australia's National Parks' by Vincent Serventy, at Altona Civic Hall.

Mrs. G. Taylor, president of the National Parks Association explained that only one per cent. of Victoria is taken up by parkland.

Unless this area is extended to at least five per cent. there is a danger that flora and fauna which is only growing in Victoria will become extinct.

Sensitive

In her winning essay, Susan gives a sensitive picture of the ways we abuse our environment.

She sees National Parks as havens from our polluted air and foresees the time when 'you will not be able to breathe', unless these parks are preserved and spread.

Susan, is petite, wears her hair in pigtails and has freckles over her cute face.

She seems much too young to know what she wants to do with her life but apparently she has her mind already made up.

She wants to be a kindergarten teacher.

Susan, who lives in Blyth Street, Altona has three brothers. There were 400 students competing in the essay competition most of whom took part in the school's excursion to Kinglake National Park.

But Susan must have been more touched by its beauty than all the others.

One-way street causes problem

The fact that the northern end of Grieve Parade carries only one way traffic annoys Mr. John Hartley, of Hammond Street, Altona.

In a letter to Altona council Mr. Hartley says vehicles wishing to enter Hammond Street or Chorley Avenue must travel in a northerly direction, then the length again in a southerly direction before they can cut through either Greeney or Lowe streets.

"Ford Road and Greeney Street and Belmar Avenue and Lowe Street are misaligned by approximately 20 yards," he says. "Thus to enter the area to the east of Grieve Parade by the most direct route, would involve travelling 20 yards down a one-way street in the wrong direction."

"In case of emergency, fire engines or ambulances find this situation most undesirable and in fact most residents are tempted to break the law."

Mr. Hartley's solution is to have further one-way divisions across the median strip directly opposite both Greeney and Lowe Streets.

Council resolved on a motion by Cr. Bill Sommers to refer the matter to the finance committee.

City Engineer (Mr. R. Simmons) said cost of the project would be $1200.

Armistice Day was observed in Altona when the Mayor of Altona, Cr. D. K. Grant, and Altona RSL president, Mr. F. Davies, placed wreaths at the cenotaph and eternal flame outside Altona Civic Offices. The mayor's wreath was on behalf of the City and Mr. Davies' wreath was on behalf of Altona RSL. Pictured are Mr. T. Thomas (left), hall keeper, Mr. B. C. Draper, Altona RSL manager, Mr. J. W. Waters, Altona town clerk, Mr. Davies, Cr. Grant, and council officers Mr. W. T. Inglis and Mr. L. Bryan.

Be one of the smart ones, wear Scholl sandals. Never a sandal quite like this before. Until you have tried them yourself, it is hard to believe. Correct support under your feet and you will find it hard to return to shoes. The soles are moulded to encourage your toes to do a bit of gripping. No more dropped arches with the built in arch. Heel room too. By the way — good for agifttoo.

You are getting the idea, no need to wear thick heavy makeup, but be natural looking, don't you look and feel much better. Not so much powder on dry those cheeks. What a shame though! That brown blotch on your neck. Your makeup won't hide it now. Have you thought of blanching it away? Cyclax Blanche Cream applied nightly to all dark spots and see them fade away. No need for embarrassment after using Cyclax Blanche Cream. While on the subject of embarrassment — under arm, facial or limb hair can be safely removed by Cyclax Bare Depilatory Cream. Cyclax give you the chance to test their product for reaction — and money refunded if you react against it.

Then you may prefer Cyclax Wax Depilatory. Do you realise that you are most likely to get sun burn or tanned between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. when the sun is high and the rays more intense? Water reflects these rays to make it more intense. Do reapply your sun preparations every couple of hours and always again after swimming. Don't tan with tears, choose the correct lotion, oil or cream for your skin.

Don't overexpose yourself — especially in a new shape bathing suit, it is safer to start tanning ten minutes each side first day, then increasing the time. Do apply lotio non cloudy days as well as sunny. Don't stop using your preparations even when you have acquired your tan. You can still get burned. Do safeguard sensitive areas such as nose, cheekbones, shoulders, neck andkips with extra applications or more protective creams. Special lip creams and sticks are formulated for your protection.

Do acquire a good sunburn cream or spray on, it is too late come evening when the chemist is closed.

Be prepared. Bye.

A history of land development in Altona

To give the reader some idea of what Altona was like before the era of land sub-division which brought with it unparalleled prosperity, we continue our journey with our guide, the cabbie...

Our traveller notices signs of railway construction from the platform across Kororoit Creek Road towards the racecourse to the south. The cabbie informs him that the railway is being extended closer to the course and is expected to be open by the end of the year.

Just east of the present platform and railway our visitor notices a group of buildings, on asking their function he is told that this is the infamous Cut Paw Paw Sanatorium for infectious diseases such as smallpox built by the central board of Health in 1882-3 to isolate patients. A couple of tombstones near the building indicate that for some it was a one-way journey.

The cabbie then directs his passenger's gaze to a house north east of the melancholy buildings to the other side of the Geelong railway.

"This," announces the guide "is 'Hatherley' where David Ross resided until his death eight years ago. His wife, Johanna and other members of the family still live there. 'Further north,' the driver informs our visitor, 'Edward Blackshaw and Cornelious Welton have farms.'"

Our cabbie informs our friend that we are in Wyndham Shire and if we were game enough to continue along the road we would eventually reach the town of that name.

Looking south west towards Phelps's 'Altona', we can distinguish where the homestead is by the clump of imported trees in the distance. Kororoit Creek can be seen in the foreground.

The cabman then hurries his horse and the cab moves south along Racecourse Road. We cross a 25 ft. wide wooden bridge over 300 ft. long built about 18 months ago across the creek and we are at the entrance to the famous Williamstown Racecourse.

Our visitor has heard a great deal about this establishment. It has been in existence at least 20 years and now ranks as one of the leading race courses in the colony.

A virile racing club has placed many improvements on this ground, even now a new grand is being erected. If it was not for the periodical flooding of the creek causing havoc in the ground...

Just then the cabman interrupts our friend's thoughts and points to a house west of where we are and informs our friend that this is "Seaford", the home of Robert Cherry the Wyndham Councillor. His property comes right up to the road we are on and some dairy cattle can be seen.

The cab moves on towards Laverton Bay, the road is only a bush track now through scrub but soon we reach the bay. Some fishermen's boats can be seen. "These," explains the driver, "belong to Williamstown people who have the owner's permission to fish here."

As our friends move west they notice lucern paddocks and crops of oats. Sheep graze in other paddocks, a belt of pines and other foliage can be seen stretching away into the distance.

Soon the homestead comes into view, a large stone building with stables and other out-buildings. A large garden surrounds the homestead with large trees growing in the area. The manager, Mr. W. McPherson, meets us and invites us in for afternoon tea. He tells us that the property of over 2 1/2 thousand acres is divided into 13 paddocks and stretches almost to Laverton township two miles or so away.

The Cherry family hold most of the land north of this property, which, incidentally says our host is called 'Altona'. A Mr. Leake has a farm on the west boundary. Messrs J. & J. L. Phelps have been trying to sell 'Altona' since late 1885 but so far without success.

Mr. McPherson shows our friend around the buildings including the beach which our friend thinks is quite good. Then bidding farewell the homeward journey to Williamstown is commenced.

Little do our visitors realise that a new era is about to dawn on the area just visited.

Written by ALLAN J. CLARK, Hon. Secretary of the Altona Historical Society.

LAND SUB-DIVISION

The years following the great international Exhibition of 1880 signalled a decade of unparalleled prosperity in Victoria and Melbourne. Miles of railways were built at this time and the cable tram put in its appearance.

Coupled with this was a land mania where land companies were formed to speculate on land. These companies would buy farms, sub-divide and sell at a profit. The buyers of the land would sell their blocks to some-one else at a higher price and so the spiral would go on.

Some suburbs developed during this time such as Newport, Yarraville, Essendon, Kensington, Brunswick and Brighton: a lot of others were put on the market decades ahead of their time; some are only being developed now.

Melbourne was then Australia's largest city and millions of dollars of British capital flowed into the colony — and was invested in land.

Altona was one of those places developed before its time but there are other estates also in and around Altona that appeared at this time so we will deal with them in order of appearance:

EPSOM ESTATE

About 1884-5 a syndicate of which the Hon. Alfred Thomas Clark seems to have been the brains behind, purchased a tract of land north of the Williamstown Racecourse, fronting onto the south side of Kororoit Creek Road.

Who was A. T. Clark? He was an enterprising businessman, and politician who lived in and represented Williamstown. He was born in the mid 1840s and by the early 70s was in Parliament.

He founded the Williamstown Advertiser in 1874 and also in partnership with Mr. Smith conducted an estate agency. He was minister for customs about 1880.

When the Government announced that a large railway workshops was to be built at Newport in the mid 1880s Mr. Clark decided to develop Newport (at this time little more than a village with numerous quarries) into a residential suburb for the expected inflow of people who were to work at the new works.

This he did — parts of Newport's layout today is a result of A. T. Clark's land company's work.

Seeing that the Newport sales were successful the enterprising man then looked further and bought the land near the racecourse already alluded to.

We next meet our man at a meeting of Williamstown Council trying to persuade that body to allow his syndicate to build an asphalt path along the south side of Kororoit Creek Road from North Williamstown to the land to be sold, free of cost to the municipality.

The only catch is that the club leasing the rifle range at this time had to pay for the cost of the path passing the range. The council refused the offer reported the Williamstown Advertiser of May 16, 1885.

The sale of this famous property, the Epsom Estate, Newport, will take place as above. The vendors (sellers) have placed it into the hands of Gemmell Tuckett & Co in conjunction with A. T. Clark & J. Morgan to sell by auction without reserve.

This grand estate has been subdivided into 120 allotments and is close to the Williamstown racecourse, which is pronounced to be the prettiest racecourse in and about Melbourne. It is within 10 minutes walk of the national railways workshops which are now being erected at a cost of over £250,000 ($500,000) by the government and which must necessarily give employment to over 3000 artisans (tradesmen).

The railway station of the branch line to the racecourse is within 100 feet of the celebrated Epsom Estate, Newport. The land is high and dry and commands a grand view of the bay, Melbourne, Williamstown and the racecourse. Roads are nearly all 60' wide and a splendid sea beach is within a half-mile of the estate. Five special trains leave Melbourne on day of sale 12.45 p.m., 1.15 p.m., 1.45 p.m., 2.15 p.m., 2.45 p.m. Free railway passes — luncheon provided — Spacious marquee — note — the sale will proceed wet or fine — a band of music will perform on the ground on Prince of Wales' birthday.

Terms only £5 ($10) deposit balance extending over two years — discount for cash; title certificate can be inspected at W. H. Croker or Pentland and Robert solicitors. Plans not available. Remember the day of sale, 14th November.

Apart from the fact that 10 minutes to the workshops would have to be done in seven leaguer boots, this ad was quite truthful and is typical of the land sales of the period.

Some of the language still used today. Another point to remember is that a buyer would not come to an estate finding the roads or footpaths macadam or drainage, water, etc. laid on.

All he would find would be a paddock with perhaps a street sign and possibly surveyor's pegs marking the streets. Most people bought land with the intention of selling it same later at a profit.

The streets of this estate were given horse racing names being close to the course such as Ascot, Champion and Racecourse roads.

The racecourse railway was extended in November 1887 and cut the estate in two but had the effect of placing the new station in the middle. The promoters took advantage of this and another 40 allotments were put up for auction on Nov. 20 followed by another sale on January 21, 1888.

ALTONA ELDERLY CITIZENS

The Altona Elderly Citizens were entertained this week by the Summerlea concert party.

Guests of honor at the afternoon were Cr. and Mrs. Burns.

Last week an error appeared in the Star in the C grade bowls. It should have read Mr. and Mrs. A. Hansen, Mrs. M. Keeshon and Mrs. R. Benson defeated Windsor House 23-15.

The club's monthly dance was held last Saturday.

Guests of honor were the mayor and mayoress of Altona, Cr. and Mrs. D. Grant.

Dance during the holidays

Teenagers in Altona can expect some relief to the Christmas holiday boredom this year by courtesy of the Australian Entertainment Exchange.

The Exchange is promoting a dance called Penny Farthing at the Altona Civic Hall every fortnight, starting next Friday.

Williamstown Grammar head mistress, Mrs. Eileen Price, takes her combined class on the lawn in front of the old house converted into classrooms.

The tiny school in the historic house

By JAN KNEWSTUB

A hard-working head mistress with a great love for children, a spacious old home with a National Trust "C" classification, and individual teaching attention — it all makes life very pleasant for the pupils of Williamstown's tiny grammar school.

The school in The Strand is an old building, which is rented from the Harbor Trust.

Headmistress Mrs. Eileen Price said the school hopes eventually to buy the old house, whose unique chimneys and ceilings first brought it to the notice of the National Trust.

The school is increasing its student intake and hopes to have 60 pupils next year.

In classrooms with a wide sweeping view over the Bay to the Dandenong Ranges, children from three years to secondary school standard are given an excellent schooling — not only in such basics as maths and English, but in good manners and citizenship as well.

Mrs. Price is adamant about school uniform.

"I am very strict about it, no matter how young the child. We have great trouble trying to get dresses small enough for our little girls."

Mrs. Price said it was part of keeping up the standard of the school and its discipline.

Williamstown Grammar, which teaches both boys and girls, has a large kindergarten.

The school committee, with Cr. Jack Byron as its president, is considering opening a larger pre-school centre in a separate building at the back of the house but no decision has yet been made.

Mrs. Price hopes the school will eventually teach first and second forms as well.

Many pupils "do the school proud" scholastically, both at the Grammar, and later at secondary school.

Mrs. Price thinks that, because she and her staff of two can devote individual care to each child, they have a far sounder basic education than children in State and Roman Catholic schools, where classes are much larger.

Being small does not stop Williamstown Grammar offering its pupils all types of sport as well as art, music and ballet lessons.

The girls have an active junior Red Cross circle, which every year works to send a Christmas box of toys and books to children in Asia. The children make most of the gifts themselves.

Mrs. Price is a firm believer in small private schools of this type.

"I believe the school is fulfilling a big need in this area," she says.

She added there were many timid and delicate children who could not keep up with other children in big schools, either in work or play.

These were the children who benefit most.

Mrs. Price plans to go to England this Christmas to see relatives she left behind when she migrated 13 years ago.

But she is too busy to even begin to grow excited about the six-week trip.

She teaches grades three to six herself, and although this takes in only 15 children, it is quite a handful for one person.

Suzanne Mellis and Bruce Connell paste Christmas cards on the big Christmas box that Williamstown Grammar School students will fill with books and toys for children overseas.

AWARD WINNER IN 'SEMI-DETACHED'

Williamstown Little Theatre's production of David Turner's play Semi-Detached has an experienced cast including 1970 Moomba Festival best actor award winner Les Terrill.

Terrill also won this year's Cordell award for the year's best performance in a play put on by the Williamstown Little Theatre.

The cast of Semi-Detached, which takes a satirical look at respectability, includes Irene Stephenson, Eileen Price, Nola Finn, Lesley Birks, Peter Egan, Gary Metcalf, Kelvin Harmon and Steven Moore.

Most of the cast is well-known to Little Theatre audiences from previous productions, while Kelvin Harmon is making his first appearance after having recently moved to Yarraville.

The play is being produced by Maggie McInnes and the set designed by John Burrett.

The season will run from Wednesday, November 25, to Saturday, December 5.

Tickets (Adults $1.00, children 50 cents) are available from E. S. Marr's Music and Radio Centre, 49 Ferguson Street, Williamstown.

LAPIDARY CLUB

Friday, November 27 is the date of the next social evening of the Western Suburbs Lapidary Club.

It will be held at the Methodist Church hall, on the corner of Electra and Pascoe Streets, Williamstown.

Gifts are still needed for the opportunity table and will be sold at reasonable prices.

Tickets for gentlemen to the Christmas party will also be available, priced at 75 cents.

Williamstown High has new 'deputy'

A new deputy head master, Mr. David Collins, has been appointed at Williamstown High School, for the new school year.

A social, to be held at the school on December 16, will give staff and parent bodies the chance to farewell Mr. Bullen, who is retiring.

Mr. Bullen has been the woodwork teacher for the past 18 years.

A contract has been let for rebuilding the burnt-out section of the school. Work should be completed by the beginning of first term next year.

Tenders have been called for a new fence around the school.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a street stall outside the State Savings Bank, in Ferguson Street, on Friday, December 4. Cakes and fancy goods will be on sale. Parents are advised that all school books can be obtained at the school in the first week of the new term. A final paper drive will be held on Saturday, December 12.

Engineer to report on Institute

Williamstown council has asked City Engineer, Mr. J. T. Rees, to report on the future of the Mechanics Institute building.

Council has received a report on the condition of the building from Messrs. W. J. and W. L. Meinhardt, consulting structural and civil engineers. Council wants to know whether it would be possible to retain the front part of the building, and demolish the main hall and dressing rooms.

Council also wants reports from the town clerk and the hall manager on the terms of occupancy and rights council has over the area.

Wiltona hostel at Williamstown is a far cry from the migrant hostels of the not-so-distant past.

Most of the barrack-like tin sheds that used to house new arrivals, have been replaced by buildings that resemble luxury hotels.

For Wiltona is the finest migrant hostel in Victoria. The adult quarters are self-contained, fully equipped and built in dark-brown brick along the latest design.

The kindergarten is an especially happy place.

Trained

The 39 children, whose ages range from two to six, are looked after by trained staff, while their parents work.

The spacious rooms are well lit, full of colorful toys and adorned by the children's artwork.

The children can be left at the centre for 10 hours each working day and charges are $1.50 a week for the first child and $1.00 each for other children in the same family.

In the event of illness, the child is kept in an isolated room and his mother is contacted immediately at her work.

The children are weighed and measured four times a year and if their height or weight is not up to standard, their diet is changed to include more nutritious elements.

Language

Mrs. Bannister, head attendant at the kindergarten, has been transferred from Brooklyn because of superior capability in dealing with children.

"It's easier to deal with children in groups," Mrs. Bannister said, "they get on well with each other. Migrant children pick up the language in a matter of weeks."

At present there are seven non-English speaking nationalities living in the hostel.

Experiment

There are no problems as members of the staff speak the necessary languages and there are interpreters available at the Immigration Department for consultation.

● Theresa Smith, 4, (right) shares a secret with Dawn Reed, 4, at the kindergarten of 'Wiltona' migrant hostel.

Children get good start at Wiltona

The kindergarten was built four months ago and it is something of an experiment.

In winter the rooms are heated from underground and an extension will be made to the existing building.

Part of the reason why the children enjoy such good health is the conscientious work of the staff, who all love children.

An it shows.

The supervisors insist on strict routine — meals, play periods and sleep are relegated to set times.

When our photographer wanted to take pictures of children, he was not allowed to do so during their rest period, even though most of them were awake.

The result of such competent, loving care are healthy, happy children, who will grow up to be valuable members of our community.

LIFE-SAVERS NEED HELP

Life-savers of the clubs under the jurisdiction of the Royal Life Saving Society of Victoria have made 961 rescues during the past 11 years. There have been no drownings in areas patrolled by life savers.

Yet the life-savers need help too, and if parents and other members of the public paid heed to the following safety hints, the number of inevitable drownings would be reduced considerably:

Parents should keep a close watch on young children using inflated rafts, motor tubes and rubber toys, particularly when an off-shore wind is blowing as they can drift into deep water very quickly.

Cramp

Don't stay in the water too long, particularly if you are feeling the cold, as this is a sure way of getting cramp.

Don't swim within an hour of having a substantial meal, nor remain in the water when really hungry as a hungry swimmer lacks energy and soon tires.

Don't be a bully in the water. Ducking a weak young swimmer can be a terrifying experience to that person and may cause him to become permanently afraid of water and lose the desire to swim.

Test depth

Don't dive into waters of unknown depth particularly in rivers and lakes where the level can drop considerably during a dry spell. Look around for a stick to test the depth or enter feet first. Otherwise you could find yourself with a broken neck or head first in mud.

Don't dive into water from diving stands or piers before making sure there is no-one in the water below. Diving on to someone in these circumstances will almost certainly result in serious injury to both people.

Don't pretend to be in difficulties when you aren't. Your friends will get used to your antics and if you are really in trouble some time, you will be left for a "dead duck."

If swimming in a river and you get caught in a strong current, swim diagonally across the river in the direction of the flow.

Fighting against the current will waste vital energy.

When using swimming baths remember that the surrounds are usually wet and slippery. Don't take running dives into the water or barge into other people. You are just as liable to get hurt as anyone else.

Boat owners should steer well clear of swimmers. Users of ski-boards should also keep well clear of areas where there are a large number of swimmers.

Finally, help to keep our beaches clean and safe by not leaving bottles and other dangerous debris behind when you leave. If you see any broken glass on the beach, pick it up and put it in one of the bins provided by the city council.

C GRADE CRICKET

With Seddon resuming at 2 for 55, Altona C Grade, needed quick wickets if they were to get back into the game.

Although they were without Rodney Gray, Altona achieved a breakthrough in the first over of the day when Cook fielded threw at the stumps but missed. Seddon over rate was again pitifully slow, and thus the task was rather difficult. With the score at 2 for 73 the innings was closed, thus leaving Sedan 113 runs to score in 65 minutes.

His throw was well-backed up by Peter Carlton who calmly removed the bails with the batsman well out of his ground. At no stage did Seddon attempt to get the runs and with Geoff Sephenson and Peter Carlton bowling well, 4 wickets fell in the last half hour's play to have Seddon 6 for 56 at stumps. The six points gained from this victory leaves Altona undefeated on top of the ladder with 28 points.

A short partnership of 19 was broken by Keith Hancock when he bowled the opposition captain. He followed this up immediately by taking another three wickets in six balls. Seddon, 1st Innings, resumed at 2 for 55.

Hancock was well supported by Bruce Forrester at the other end, and between this pair the Seddon innings was concluded with the total at 91. Seddon, 1st Innings, resumed at 2 for 55.

Altona commencing their second innings were anxious to get sufficient runs to go for an outright win. However, the

Under 14

An unconquered century partnership by Walsh and White for Altona West enabled the team to easily beat Altona.

Walsh finished with 61 not out and White with 43 not out.

In the other game, Altona High scraped in by three runs against Seaholme in a very tight game.

Scores: Altona West 1 for 127 (Walsh 61 n.o., White 43 n.o.) defeated Altona 63 (Groomer 19, Bebed 11; Toney 5/27, Millar 3/2) and 3 for 72 (Groomer 33 n.o., Bebed 24).

Region one heats of the Victorian Little Athletics Relay Championships were conducted at Corio on Sunday.

The Altona boys under 9 4 x 100 metres team broke the Victorian record in covering the distance in 1 min. 3.1 sec.

Two other successful Altona teams were boys under 11 4 x 400 metres and girls under 9 4 x 400 metres.

Members of the Altona teams, which will now go on to the Victorian championships at Olympic Park on December 6 are boys under 11 4 x 400: P. Curran, A. White, G. Bone and M. Dyball.
